discount still populate normally (:236–242).

- Provider visibility is incomplete: no Gemini-specific label.
- `discount_source` is ignored by the page. Its existing static description still says the backend applies expiry-based discount rules (:518), which matches your stated backend behavior.
- The backend must still return nonempty `title` , `subject` , and `message` , plus an integer `discount_percent` from 0–100. The two source fields alone are not a complete valid response.
